KIEL Institut

KIELER Konjunkturgespräche

111th Kieler Konjunkturgespräche

Housing and the Macro Economy

This autumn, the KKG conference is coming home to Kiel. Next to discussing the most recent trends and events in the global economy and its major economies we put a special focus on the interplay between housing markets, policy making and macroeconomic performance.

Day 1, Monday, October 26

Kiel Institute, Lecture Hall, Ground Floor

12:00 Arrival & Finger food

13:00 Opening Remarks
Stefan Kooths
Research Director, Business Cycles and Growth, Kiel Institute

13:30 Housing Shortages as a Constraint on Economic Growth
Jan David Bakker
Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, Bocconi University

14:00 Transaction Taxes and the Performance of Real Estate Markets
Alexander Mengden
Economist, Tax Foundation

14:30 The Economic Impact of Socializing Large Housing Portfolios: The Case of Berlin
Jonas Zdrzalek
Project Lead GREIX, Kiel Institute

15:00 Coffee Break

15:30 Q&A: Housing and the Macro Economy
Jan David Bakker, Alexander Mengden, Jonas Zdrzalek

16:00 Global Economic Outlook
Klaus-Jürgen Gern
Research Group Business Cycles and Growth, Kiel Institute

16:45 United States: Economic Outlook
Adolfo Laurenti
Principal European Economist, VISA, London

17:30 Dinner Buffet

KIEL Institut

KIELER Konjunkturgespräche

Day 2, Tuesday, October 27

Kiel Institute, Lecture Hall, Ground Floor

09:15 China: Economic Outlook
Wan-Hsin Liu
Research Group Business Cycles and Growth, Kiel Institute

09:45 United Kingdom: Economic Outlook
Stephen Millard
Deputy Director, NIESR, London

10:30 Coffee Break

11:00 France: Economic Outlook
Paul Berthier
Economist, Macroeconomic Analysis, Rexecode, Paris

11:45 Germany: Economic Outlook
Nils Jannsen
Research Group Business Cycles and Growth, Kiel Institute

12:30 Plenary debate and closing remarks

13:00 Lunch break